

VOCABULARY

GAMES AND ACTIVITIES for Teachers

Peter Watcyn-Jones

Vocabulary Games and Activities for Teachers is an invaluable source book by Peter Watcyn-Jones, the author of the bestselling Test Your Vocabulary series. It is divided into two parts: Part 1 gives detailed teacher's notes for each activity, while Part 2 contains the various cards, handouts, etc. to be photocopied. There are 90 activities for teaching and revising vocabulary. These range from elementary to advanced, and many contain material to be photocopied and mounted on card. They have been devised for pair work, group work and sometimes whole class activities, and have been grouped into nine main sections which include crosswords, bingo and board games. Teachers are encouraged to adapt these activities to suit their own classroom situation.

Vocabulary Games and Activities for Teachers aims to make the learning process more active and more fun. Here the teacher's role is mainly that of facilitator, while the students do the work and enjoy using this motivating and lively material.

Introduction

Vocabulary Games and Activities is a source book for teachers, containing a collection of 90 activities for teaching and revising vocabulary. Most of them developed as a result of running a series of vocabulary learning courses in Sweden during the past ten years. They range from elementary to advanced activities, most of which contain material to be photocopied. It is hoped they will prove useful in general courses where vocabulary learning is at last beginning to play an important and active part.

The choice of lexical items in the book is largely subjective and has been chosen principally to illustrate a particular type of activity rather than imply that the words found here are more useful or important than other words. In choosing the vocabulary, quite a lot of material has been taken from the author's Test Your Vocabulary series (also published by Penguin Books). Activities invariably have to be changed or adapted to suit one's own particular group of students, so I hope teachers will feel free to make any changes they feel necessary. What is presented in Vocabulary Games and Activities is, above all, ideas which, hopefully, will stimulate and encourage teachers to devise their own activities based on these ideas.

I am sometimes asked why one should go to the trouble of photocopying and cutting out words for activities when the same thing could probably be done on a single sheet of paper. My answer is that although it is certainly more work for the teacher, the results are well worth it. Learning seems to become more active, the students get more involved and, in my experience, retention improves enormously. Once a student has done an exercise on paper, it feels "finished", and is never easy to repeat. By allowing the students to physically arrange words on a table (e.g. in matching pairs or group of words), the sense of touch is used, and the more senses that are involved in the learning process the better. The learning process is also made more dynamic and enjoyable by working with fellow-students, and most of the activities in this book are designed for pair work, group work and, occasionally, whole class activities.

Finally, having led a relatively isolated life in Northern Europe, it is difficult to know which ideas can be claimed as one's own and which are other people's. Where I have consciously used someone else's idea I have of course acknowledged this. In other cases where I have devised an activity which someone else can lay prior claim to (it is possible for two people to come up with the same idea quite independently), then I apologize and will gladly make the appropriate acknowledgement in future editions of this book.

The organisation of this book

The activities have been grouped into nine sections: Ice-breaker activities, Bingo activities, Matching pairs activities, Crossword and word square activities, Word grouping activities, Pair work and board games, Teacher-led activities, 20-square activities and Miscellaneous activities. Part 1 of the book gives detailed teacher's notes for each activity while Part 2 contains the various cards, hand-outs, etc. to be photocopied.

The material to be photocopied has been arranged in such a way that it also serves as an instant key to the majority of the activities. For example, in the matching pair activities the 20 words on the A sheet are in exactly the same places as the corresponding "matching word" on the B sheet. It is therefore important to remember to shuffle the cards prior to handing them out to the students. Where a key is not obvious from the layout, a separate key is included in the teacher's notes.

Classroom organisation

Although class sizes vary considerably, the book assumes an average class size of 10–20 students. Where possible, the classroom should be physically rearranged to facilitate working in pairs or groups. However, should this not be possible, even the more traditional front-facing rows of desks can be easily adapted for pair work and group work. For pair work, students can either work with the person sitting next to them or the person in front of or behind them. For group work, two students can easily turn their chairs round to face two others behind them. Where you have an uneven number of students in the class, most pair work activities can be done by three people (if necessary, two students against one).

The role of the teacher

Apart from the activities in the section Teacher-led activities, the teacher's role is largely a passive one. The teacher is mainly responsible for:

- preparing the material in sufficient quantities
- explaining clearly what is to be done
- “checking” answers at the end of an activity

Once an activity has started, students usually work independently of the teacher at their own pace. The teacher goes round the classroom listening and monitoring their progress and only interfering or helping if absolutely necessary.

Time limits

Although many teachers may disagree with me on this point, I strongly advise giving the class a time limit for most of the activities, and to stop them whether they have finished or not. Apart from the obvious difficulties of students finishing at different times, the checking process is often an integral and, from the learning point of view, important part of the activity. As such it is better that you check with the whole class rather than individual groups.

Storing the material

The material to be photocopied can be divided into two types: (a) hand-outs which the students write on, and (b) material which the students use but do not write on.

To save the teacher unnecessary work, therefore, it is a good idea that material that can be re-used is made as durable as possible. One way is to mount everything on thin card. (Many photocopiers nowadays allow the use of card.) These cards and hand-outs can then be stored in separate envelopes (clearly labelled on the outside) which can be handed back to the teacher at the end of the activity.

Nearly all the activities presented in this book require preparation on the part of the teacher. It is hoped that all the extra effort will prove to be rewarding.

Part 1 Teacher's notes

Ice-breaker activities

These activities are intended largely for fun – to be used with new groups to “break the ice” or when you have to divide the class into pairs or groups.

1 Find someone who...1 Intermediate

This is based on an activity that has been around for some time.

Method

- 1 Copy and cut up the cards on pages 24–7, so there is one for each student in the class.
- 2 Give out the cards and allow time for the students to work out which questions to ask.
- 3 Students now walk around the room trying to find answers to the five questions on their cards. To ensure that they talk to as many people as possible, tell them that they are only allowed to ask one question every time they talk to someone.
- 4 Students write down any answers to their questions, plus the name of the student who gave them the answer.
- 5 After a while, stop the activity, irrespective of whether everyone has found answers to all their questions.
- 6 As a quick follow-up, let each student read out one of the answers on his/her card. You might also take up any questions for which the students couldn't get answers.

2 Find someone who...2 Elementary

This is a variation of the above activity where, instead of the students getting individual cards, they all have a copy of the same hand-out.

Method

- 1 Give each student a copy of the hand-out on page 28.
- 2 As Activity 1, though students can now be allowed to ask two to three questions every time they talk to someone.
- 3 This time, you could go through all the questions, each student answering a different one.

3 Find someone who...3

Intermediate/Advanced

Method

As Activity 2. The hand-out is on page 29.

Activities for dividing a class into pairs/groups

The following activities can be used as ice-breakers or to divide a class into pairs (Activities 4–6) or groups of three or four (Activities 7–9).

4 Broken sentences 1 Elementary

In this activity students have to put together sentences which have been broken up into two halves.

Method

- 1 Copy and cut up the broken sentences on page 30, so there is one sentence for each pair of students in the class. (If there is an odd number, the teacher can take part.)
- 2 Students walk around the room trying to find their “pair”. Once they have, they sit down.
- 3 Check by getting each pair to read out their sentence.

5 Broken sentences 2 Intermediate

Method

As Activity 4. The broken sentences are on page 31.

6 Broken proverbs Advanced

Method

As Activity 4, but with well-known proverbs. See page 32.

7 Broken sentences 3 Intermediate

In this activity students have to put together sentences which have been broken up into three parts.

Method

- 1 Copy and cut up the broken sentences on page 33, so there is one sentence for each group of three students in the class.
 - 2 Students walk around the room trying to find their "group". Once they have, they sit down.
 - 3 Check by getting each group to read out their sentence.

8 Word sets 1 Intermediate/Advanced

In this activity students have to find three words that are related to a particular heading (or key word).

Method

- 1 Copy and cut up the groups of four words on page 34, so there is one group of words for each group of four students in the class.
 - 2 Students walk around the room trying to find their "group". Once they have, they sit down.
 - 3 Check by getting each group to read out first the key word, then the three words related to it.

9 Word sets 2 Advanced

Method

As Activity 8. The word sets are on page 34.

Bingo activities

Although teachers may tire of bingo, students rarely do, and for sheer concentration there are few activities that can beat it. The activities described here are variations of bingo. For each activity there are ten different bingo cards. For larger classes, some students can work in pairs.

10 Picture bingo Elementary

The pictures chosen here are of 20 common objects found in the home.

Method

- 1 Copy and cut out the ten bingo cards on page 38. Also make two copies of the teacher's board on page 35. Leave one copy as it is but cut the other copy into 20 squares.
 - 2 Give the students a card each. Allow a few minutes for them to look through them before beginning.
 - 3 Put the 20 squares in a hat, cup, etc. Draw them out one at a time, saying each word as you do so and placing it on your "master board". If the students have the word (a picture on their cards), they cross it out.
 - 4 Play proceeds until a student has crossed out every picture, in which case (s)he shouts Bingo!
 - 5 Check by getting him/her to say which pictures (s)he has crossed out. (You can ask another student to monitor this, to avoid any cheating!)

11 Opposites bingo Elementary

In this game, the students have the opposites of the words the teacher reads out. (The students' words are given in brackets on the teacher's board.)

Method

As Activity 10. The student cards are on page 39 and the teacher's board is on page 35.

12 Prepositions bingo Intermediate

The bingo cards here are slightly different than normal: each one consists of five sentences with missing prepositions. As each preposition is called out the students write them in the gaps on their cards. At the end of the game the winning student reads out all five sentences.

Method

As Activity 10, though it is a good idea to let the students read through the sentences first to know which prepositions to listen for. The student cards are on page 40 and the teacher's board is on page 36.

13 Synonyms bingo Intermediate

In this game, the students have synonyms for the words the teacher reads out. (The students' words are given in brackets on the teacher's board.)

Method

As Activity 10. The student cards are on page 41 and the teacher's board is on page 36.

14 Definitions bingo Advanced

In this game, the students have various words on their cards. The teacher reads out definitions of these words. (The students' words are given in brackets after the definitions on the teacher's board.) At the end of the game you can get the winning student to try to give a definition of each word on his/her card.

Method

As Activity 10. The student cards are on page 42 and the teacher's board is on page 37.

15 Parts of the body idioms bingo Advanced

The bingo cards here each consist of five common idioms with gaps. Each gap represents a part of the body. To help the students, an explanation of the idiom is given in brackets after each sentence. As the parts of the body are called out the students write them in the gaps on their cards. As in Activity 12, at the end of the game the winning student reads out all five sentences.

Method

As Activity 10. The student cards are on page 43 and the teacher's board is on page 37.

Further suggestions

- Pictures of food, clothes, jobs, vehicles, buildings, tools, kitchen equipment, furniture, etc.
- Idioms of colour. As Activity 15, but this time a colour is left out of each sentence.
- Collective nouns. The teacher's board comprises phrases such as a bunch of, a chest of, etc. while the students have the missing nouns on their cards – grapes, drawers, etc.
- Phrasal verb bingo. The students have five sentences with a phrasal verb missing. The teacher's board has the missing phrasal verbs.
- Spelling bingo. The teacher spells out words and the students spell them back when checking.
- Phonetic bingo. Bingo cards consist of phonetics which the students have to match with the words they hear.
- Alphabet bingo. Very elementary: the bingo cards consist of letters of the alphabet.

Matching pairs activities

The activities in this section involve matching pairs of words in one way or another. All these activities are done in pairs or small groups. The items to be copied and cut up are arranged on two pages – A and B. This makes it easy for the teacher to see the correct solution. If coloured card or paper is available then different colours could be used for the A and B pages.

16 Verb + noun collocations

Elementary

In this activity the students have to pair up a verb (A words) with an appropriate noun (B words).

Method

- 1 Copy, cut up and shuffle sets of the cards on pages 44 and 45. Make enough sets for the class working in pairs or groups of three or four.
- 2 Give each group a set of A and B cards and tell them they have to arrange them into 20 pairs of words comprising a verb (on the left) and a noun (on the right).
- 3 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.
- 4 Check by going round the class from group to group. Each group reads out a pair in turn. The teacher says whether it is right or wrong. If right, it can be removed from the table (or turned over). The group gets 1 point for each correct answer. If wrong, the group gets no points and, without giving the correct answer, the teacher moves on to the next group.
- 5 Continue until all the pairs have been correctly read out.

17 Mini dialogues

Elementary

In this activity the students have to make two-line dialogues by matching up questions or sentences (A) with suitable responses (B).

Method

As Activity 16. The A questions and sentences are on page 46 and the B responses are on page 47.

18 Who uses what?

Intermediate

In this activity the students have to match up objects (A) with the people who use them (B).

Method

As Activity 16. The objects are on page 48 and the people who use them on page 49.

19 Definitions

Intermediate

In this activity the students have to match up words (A) with the correct definitions (B).

Method

As Activity 16. The words are on page 50 and the definitions on page 51.

20 Collective/partitive nouns

Intermediate/Advanced

In this activity the students have to match up collective and partitive nouns.

Method

As Activity 16. The A phrases (a blade of..., etc.) are on page 52 and the nouns on page 53.

21 Idioms

Advanced

In this activity the students have to combine verbs (A) with a noun phrase (B) to make 20 well-known idioms.

Method

As Activity 16. The verbs are on page 54 and the rest of the idiom on page 55. This time, as the pairs are read out you can give a bonus point to the group if they can either explain what the idiom means or put it in a sentence.

22 Funny definitions

Advanced

This final activity is largely for fun. The students have to match various words (A) with the correct (if somewhat unusual!) definitions (B).

Method

As Activity 16. The words are on page 56 and the definitions on page 57.

Further suggestions

- Phrasal verbs: the phrasal verb in List A and the definition in List B. e.g.:

break down stop working carry on continue

- Synonyms
- Opposites
- Jokes: the joke in List A and the punch line in List B. e.g.:

Doctor, I've got water on the knee.
Wear drainpipe trousers.

- Word association: each word in List A has an associated word in List B. e.g.:

bird beak
tree trunk

- Categories: three words have to be associated with the correct category. e.g.:

cup, plate, mug CROCKERY
pigeon, sparrow, owl BIRDS

Domino-type activities

These activities are based on the game dominoes and are played on a special board (see p. 58). Again the students work in pairs or groups. For ease of checking, the "dominoes" are arranged in the correct order on the page to be copied.

23 Dominoes: Nouns 1 Elementary

In this activity, by combining the word on the right of each domino with the word on the left, 17 new words can be formed.

Method

- 1 Copy the board on page 58. Also copy, cut out and shuffle the dominoes on page 59. Make sure there are enough sets for the class working in pairs or groups of three or four.

- 2 Give each pair/group a board and a set of dominoes. Tell them to place the domino containing the words room:coffee on the board above Start here. Now tell them that they have to place the remainder of the dominoes on the board in such a way that 17 new words are formed by combining the right-hand word of one domino with the left-hand word of the one next to it.
- 3 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.
- 4 Check by beginning with the word coffee:table. Continue in a clockwise direction until you end with bath:room.

24 Dominoes: Nouns 2

Intermediate/Advanced

Method

As Activity 23. The dominoes for this activity are on page 59. Tell the students to start with the domino pet:lady.

25 Dominoes: Nouns 3 Advanced

Method

As Activity 23. The dominoes for this activity are on page 60. Tell the students to start with the domino fall:dip.

26 Dominoes: Clothes Elementary

In this activity words have been broken up into two parts, of two to four letters each. The aim here is to form 17 words to do with clothes.

Method

As Activity 23. The dominoes for this activity are on page 60. Tell the students to start with the domino at:glo.

27 Dominoes: Phrasal verbs

Intermediate

In this activity a phrasal verb has to be matched to a definition.

Method

As Activity 23. The dominoes for this activity are on page 61. Tell the students to begin with quarrel:look into.

28 Dominoes: Idioms

Advanced

In this activity an idiom (usually adjectival) has to be matched to a definition.

Method

As Activity 23. The dominoes for this activity are on page 61. Tell the students to begin with inquisitive, curious:down-at-heel.

Further suggestions

- Prepositions: match an adjective with a preposition. e.g.:

for: interested in: typical

- Opposites
- Synonyms
- Prefixes and suffixes: complete words using a prefix or a suffix. e.g.:

taken:dis appointed:in ing:fashion able:courage

29 Word association dominoes 1

Elementary

This is a freer, more open-ended variation of dominoes and is for groups of three or four students. (Alternatively it can be played by three or four teams with two students per team.) The aim is to find links or associations between pairs of words.

Method

- 1 Copy and cut out the 52 words (hereafter called cards) on page 62. Make sure there is one set for each group.
- 2 Arrange the class into groups of three or four. The students sit facing each other around a desk or table. Each group is given a set of cards.
- 3 It might be an idea the first time you try this activity to explain the rules by demonstrating with one of the groups. The rules are as follows:
 - The cards are shuffled and each student is dealt eight, which (s)he hides from the others. The remainder of the cards are placed face down on the table.

- The top two cards from the "pack" are turned over and laid out on the table. e.g.:

birds birthday

- Decide who starts. Play will then continue in a clockwise direction. Player 1 looks at his/her cards and tries to find one or two words that can be linked to or associated with either the word birds or birthday. If (s)he finds a link, (s)he places the new word or words next to the one on the table, at the same time explaining orally the link. Let us suppose the student has the word money, (s)he places it next to birthday and says, e.g. I was given a lot of money on my birthday. So now we have the following on the table:

birds birthday money

Of course, if the person also had the word aunt (s)he can get rid of two cards by saying: I got money from my aunt on my birthday.

- The rest of the group now decide whether to accept or reject the association. (In the case of a dispute, the teacher's word is final!) If accepted, the word money is placed on top of birthday so that there are always only two cards showing. Play passes to the next player who now has to find associations for either birds or money. If the association is rejected, the student removes the word from the table and play passes on to the next person. Alternatively, if the player cannot make a link or association (s)he says Pass.
 - The first person to get rid of all his/her cards wins.
 - At any stage during the game a player may exchange one of his/her cards for a new one from the remaining cards in the pack. But this means forfeiting a turn!
- 4 Should the game go on too long, the teacher can say Stop, in which case the player with the least number of cards left is the winner.

Crosswords and word square activities

Most students enjoy doing crosswords and word squares. The following activities take these a stage further by making them into communicative group activities. There are three type of activities, namely:

- half a crossword activities
- sort out the clues activities
- word battleships activities

Half a crossword activities

In these activities the students work in two groups of two to four students. One group is called A and the other B. Each group has an incomplete crossword. By asking for and giving definitions, they try to fill in the missing words.

Acknowledgement: Based on an idea in an article by Elizabeth Woodeson published in Modern English Teacher magazine, 1982, published by Modern English Publications.

32 Half a crossword: Sports, hobbies and pastimes

Elementary

In this crossword all the missing words are different sports, hobbies or pastimes.

Method

- 1 Copy and cut up the crosswords on page 65 (Group A) and page 66 (Group B).
 - 2 Divide the class into A and B groups of between two and four students per group. They sit facing each other. Give each group the appropriate crossword and allow them time to check through the words they will need to define before starting. If necessary, give individual help at this stage.
- NOTE: On no account must they allow the other group to see their crossword.
- 3 Explain that they have to take it in turns to ask for a word that is missing from their crossword. They simply ask: What's 3 down? What's 14 across?, etc. The other group now try to give as clear a definition as possible to help them guess the word.
 - 4 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.
 - 5 They can now compare crosswords and check any words they didn't fill in.
 - 6 You can follow up by asking the groups to explain how they defined one or two words from the crossword.

Further suggestions

- Abstract nouns, e.g. anxiety, compassion, relief, etc.
- Adjectives to describe temporary states, moods and feelings, e.g. hoarse, drunk, pregnant, unconscious, etc.
- Verbs to do with movement, e.g. trudge, stagger, crawl, etc.
- Health words, e.g. midwife, maternity ward, surgeon, mumps, etc.
- Crime and punishment, e.g. arson, manslaughter, arrest, bail, etc.

Sort out the clues activity

This is really a disguised matching pairs exercise where the students, working in pairs or groups, have to match up the words in the filled-in crossword with an appropriate clue (usually a definition).

38 Sort out the clues

Intermediate

The words contained here are a mixture of verbs, nouns and adjectives. However, just as with the Half a crossword activities, these activities could just as easily concentrate on specific word groups, e.g. verbs, health words, crime and punishment, etc.

Method

- 1 Copy the filled-in crossword on page 77 and copy, cut out and shuffle the clues on page 78.
- 2 Give each pair/group a copy of the crossword and clues. They now have to sort out the clues in two columns – Across clues on the left and Down clues on the right. In addition they write in the box in front of each clue the appropriate reference: 1 down, 15 across, etc.
- 3 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.
- 4 Check by asking the groups in turn, e.g. What's the clue for 2 across – BARGE?, etc.
- 5 An additional follow-up would be to ask the students to turn over their crosswords, read out the definitions and see which group remembers which word it referred to.

Key (order as in hand-out on page 79)

10 across, 9 down, 16 down, 3 down, 23 across, 22 across, 25 down, 4 down, 12 across, 13 down, 18 down, 24 across, 1 down, 17 across, 15 across, 14 down, 20 across, 21 down, 2 across, 5 across, 6 across, 7 down, 19 across, 11 down, 8 across

Word battleships activities

This is a variation of the common word square activity. It is combined with the popular children's game of battleships. As in Half a crossword the students work in two groups of two to four. Each group has to find ten words which have been hidden in a 12 x 12 grid. Clues are provided to give them an idea of the sort of words they are looking for.

39 Word battleships 1 Elementary

Method

- 1 Copy the hand-outs on page 79 for Group A and page 80 for group B.
- 2 Arrange the class into A and B groups and give each group the appropriate hand-out. Allow a few minutes for them to look through it before they start.
- 3 Explain that they have to find ten words that are hidden in the grid. The clues next to the grid will tell them what sort of words they are looking for, e.g. two vegetables, two jobs, etc. They do this by asking for the contents of a particular square, which may contain a letter. To speed up the activity each group is allowed to ask for four squares each turn. If, during their turn, the groups think they know what a particular word is, they can say, e.g. We think the word from 2B-2E is plum, etc. If correct, they can fill in the letters without missing any turns. The first group to find all the words is the winner.
- 4 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.
- 5 Finally, let the groups compare their hand-outs to see which words, if any, they missed.

40 Word battleships 2 Intermediate

Method

As Activity 39. The hand-outs are on page 81 (Group A) and on page 82 (Group B).

41 Word battleships 3 Advanced

Method

As Activity 39. The hand-outs are on page 83 (Group A) and on page 84 (Group B).

Word grouping activities

Arranging words into groups or families is an excellent way of learning and/or reinforcing vocabulary.

42 Word groups 1: Nouns Elementary

This and all the other activities in this section are meant to be done in groups of three to five students.

Method

- 1 Copy, cut out and shuffle the words on page 85. Make sure you have one set per group.
- 2 Arrange the class into groups. Give each group a set of words and tell them they have to place five words under each heading. (They will need a desk or table on which to work.)
- 3 Set a definite time limit and stop the students at the end of it, whether they have finished or not.
- 4 Instead of just reading out the correct answers at the end, you might like to try the following:
 - Ask one group to tell you which words they have placed under IN THE KITCHEN. If they didn't get them all right, tell them which words are correct, e.g. You got three right – cooker, fridge and kettle. Move on to the next group and ask them if they can say what the missing two words are. Continue in this way until all five words are given. (In the unlikely event that after going round the class you still haven't found five correct words, tell them the answer.)

Teacher's notes

- Continue in this way with the remaining four groups. (By using this method of checking, it allows the groups to "change their minds" and reshuffle their cards during the checking stage.)

43 Word groups 2: Nouns

Intermediate

Method

As Activity 42. The words to be cut up are on page 86.

44 Word groups 3: Adjectives

Intermediate/Advanced

Method

As Activity 42. The words to be cut up are on page 87.

45 Word groups 4: Verbs Advanced

Method

As Activity 42. The words to be cut up are on page 88.

46 Word groups 5: Idioms, etc.

Advanced

This is slightly different from Activities 42–45. Here the students have to put the words and phrases into eight groups of three words and suggest a possible heading for each group. (Usually two of the three words or phrases in each group are idioms.)

Method

As Activity 42. The words to be cut up are on page 89.

Key (suggestion)

FEAR

hair-raising, have kittens, petrified

ANGER

fly off the handle, hit the roof, irate

VANITY

big-headed, blow one's own trumpet, conceited

MEMORY/FORGETFULNESS

slip one's mind, have a memory like a sieve, amnesia

MADNESS/INSANITY

crazy, have a screw loose, off one's head

LOSS OF JOB/UNEMPLOYMENT

get the sack, on the dole, made redundant

SPEECH/SPEAKING

garrulous, have the gift of the gab, hold one's tongue

MONEY/LACK OF MONEY

hard up, in the red, make ends meet

Pair work cards and board games

Pair work cards

The following three activities are for pairs of students. They are a simple but effective way of both teaching and testing vocabulary.

47 Definitions cards 1: Nouns

Advanced

There are five cards altogether. Each card has a front (A) and a back (B). On the front are definitions of eight words (in this case nouns), while on the back are the words being defined. So there are 40 words to learn/test altogether.

Method

- 1 Copy and cut up the five cards on pages 90–2, so there is one set for each group of ten students in the class. Fold each copy and stick it together so that the words and definitions are back to back. (To prevent the problem of the words or definitions shining through the paper, they could be stuck onto either side of a piece of card instead.)
- 2 Divide the students into pairs. One set of cards is sufficient for ten students, i.e. five pairs. (If there are more than ten students you will need further sets of cards.)

- 3 Give each pair one of the cards. (It doesn't matter in which order they get them.) They work on this card for a while and then at a signal from the teacher to Change! the cards are rotated. To avoid a mix-up, rotate the cards in the same direction every time. This continues until each of the pairs has had all five cards.
- 4 The basic method of working with each card is as follows:
- When they get a card they first of all make a note of its number on a piece of paper (This is to avoid getting the same card twice!)
 - The person with the definitions – the one with the A side of the card – starts first. (S)he goes through all the definitions, one after the other, asking each time, e.g. What's the word for a way of pronouncing a language, particular to one area? After each definition is a number in brackets. This refers to the number of the correct answer on the other side, in this case word number 7. After asking the question, the partner looks at the eight words on his/her side of the card and gives an answer, guessing if necessary, e.g. It's Word Number 7. It's 'accent'. The first person now says if it is right or wrong. If wrong, (s)he can say: No, it's Word Number ... whatever number is in brackets.
 - When all eight words have been gone through in this way, the pairs change over. This time the person with the B side of the card starts. (S)he goes through the words one after the other, saying, e.g. Give a definition of the word 'bait'. The partner will now (hopefully) answer: It's Definition Number 4. It's food used to attract fish or animals so that they can be caught.
- 5 As a quick follow-up, read out one or two definitions from each card and see how many of the students can remember the words. (The results are often surprisingly good!)

48 Definitions cards 2: Verbs

Advanced

This time each word is a definition of a verb. There are 40 verbs altogether.

Method

As Activity 47. The cards to be cut out are on pages 92–4.

49 Opposites cards

Intermediate

These cards teach or test opposites. Each card has six words, so altogether there are 30 opposites.

Method

As Activity 47. The cards to be cut out are on pages 95–6. The main difference here is that the students have to answer by giving the opposite of the word they can see. (At the beginning there is a tendency for them to read out the word they see rather than give the opposite of it.) To help them, the first letter of the opposite is given.

Further suggestions

- Synonyms
- Phrasal verbs
- Idioms (definitions), etc.

Board games

Most students like board games and the first three are for pairs, which also require dice.

50 Board game 1: Clothes

Elementary/Intermediate

In this game, the board contains 30 drawings of clothes which the students, working in pairs, have to match with the words in the boxes below.

Method

- 1 Give each pair a copy of the board on page 97. They will also need a die, and it might be easier if they work with different coloured pens or pencils.
- 2 Player 1 throws the die, e.g. (s)he throws 5. (S)he looks at the words in Box 5, chooses one, and writes it down under the appropriate drawing. At the same time (s)he crosses out the word from the list. Play now passes on to Player 2 who does the same.
- 3 Play continues in this way. Should a player throw a number where all the words have been used up, (s)he misses a turn. Likewise, should a player be unable to place a word (because they don't know it), (s)he “passes” and play moves to his/her partner.

Teacher's notes

- 4 Set a time limit and stop the students at the end of it. The teacher can read out the answers and the students can check. They score 1 point for every word placed correctly and lose 1 point for every word placed incorrectly.

Key (from left to right)

cardigan, boots, nightdress, belt, bow tie blouse, pyjamas, dressing gown, socks, suit tights, apron, tie, jeans, shoes skirt, T-shirt, waistcoat, jumper, overalls coat, scarf, shirt, jacket, trousers gloves, hat, dress, raincoat, vest

51 Board game 2: Synonyms

Intermediate/Advanced

In this game, the board contains 30 words which the students, working in pairs, have to match with the list of synonyms below the board.

Method

As Activity 50. The board is on page 98.

Key (from left to right)

idolize, astound, climb, aid, forbid quarrel, construct, end, swindle, grasp contemplate, loiter, loathe, exhibit, thrash prosper, compel, predict, glisten, connect leap, ridicule, loot, shake, respond revolve, frighten, scamper, yell, commence

52 Board game 3: Four of a kind

Intermediate/Advanced

In this game, the board contains 30 groups of three words. The three words are related in some way. Below the board are boxes with additional words. The students, working in pairs, have to match these words with each group of three, adding one word to each group.

Method

As Activity 50. The board is on page 99.

*zinc, yew, trunk, gnat, hem haddock, trawler, vagrant, madam (palindrome), circle
mansion, magpie, lizard, shoal, badger*

rye, perjury, poppy, tangerine, rake mint, veal, grater, clutch, crayfish chisel, turnip, congregation, adolescent, famine

Further suggestions

- British–American English
- Opposites
- Drawings: furniture, parts of a car, tools, food, etc.
- Prepositions: interested ____, famous ____, etc.

53 Board game 4: Three-in-a-row

Intermediate/Advanced

The following activity is really a vocabulary quiz game for two or three teams of two students plus a question-master. It can be useful as an end-of-term fun activity.

Method

- 1 Copy the board for Three-in-a-Row on page 100. There should be one board per game. Also copy the questions on pages 101–5. Again there should be one set of questions per game.
- 2 Divide the class into groups of two or three teams, each with a question-master. Each group gets a board and each question-master gets a set of questions. In addition, each group is given a letter (A–C).
- 3 Decide which group is to begin. Play then continues in a clockwise direction.
- 4 The first group ask for a question by choosing a number 1–30, e.g. 30. The question-master then looks at the questions for Q30 and chooses one to ask the group. (There are six possible questions per number.) If correct, they write their letter (A–C) in the numbered square on the board. If incorrect, the question-master gives the answer and makes a note that this question has been asked.
- 5 Play continues in this way. The aim is for one group to “capture” three adjacent squares – either vertically, horizontally or diagonally.
- 6 Since there are six questions per square it will take the group quite some time to know every answer, so the game can be played quite often without the students becoming bored.

A variation on the above game is to have the teacher act as question-master with the class being divided into three teams A–C. This time, each team (and teacher) is given a board on which to mark not only their letter but also the other groups' letters. (Otherwise it would be difficult to check who has won, which squares are still free, etc.)

Teacher-led activities

In the previous activities in this book the teacher's role has been a somewhat passive one. His/her job has largely been to organize, set up and close an activity, with the students working for most of the time on their own in pairs or small groups.

In the following activities, however, the teacher has a more central (and traditional) role. As before, the students work mainly in pairs and small groups.

54 Complete the sentences

Elementary

In this activity, the students are given some cut-up words. They listen to sentences where a word (or words) has been left out, and suggest which word (or words) from their selection best completes each gap. They can either work alone or in pairs.

Method

- 1 Copy and cut up the words on page 106. The first 20 words are the words that are missing from the sentences, while the remaining words are distractors.
- 2 The students work either alone or in pairs. The words are divided up amongst each student/pair. Make sure that everyone has at least one correct word and, depending on the number of students in the class, one distractor. All the words are placed face up on the table or desk.
- 3 Read out the sentences on page 107, one at a time. If necessary, read each sentence more than once.

Make sure you clearly indicate (by making a sound, etc.) where the missing word is in each sentence.

- 4 The student who thinks (s)he has the missing word, holds it up and says it out loud. If correct, the word is turned face down. This helps the teacher to see how many words each student has left.
- 5 If incorrect, the teacher can ask other students to suggest the missing word. (They may be able to guess it even if it isn't one of their words.) Further help can be given, e.g. It starts with the letter p. Again, if the teacher is close enough to the students (s)he may be able to point to a student/pair and say It's one of your words!
- 6 Continue until all 20 sentences have been completed successfully.

NOTE: Although this exercise can be done as a simple paper/pen exercise, there is a 100 per cent increase in concentration by doing it this way. Students listen eagerly to each sentence, and apart from testing to see if they can see if a word fits into a particular context, it also gives good practice in seeing when a word doesn't fit (an equally useful skill to learn).

55 Complete the story

Intermediate

This is similar to Activity 54, but this time instead of reading out isolated sentences, the teacher reads a complete story with 24 gaps. Again, the students are given more words than are actually missing from the story.

Method

As Activity 54. The words to be cut up are on page 108 (first the 24 missing words, then 24 distractors). The story to be read out is on page 109.

56 Types of people

Advanced

In this activity the teacher reads out 16 definitions of people. The students listen and try to match the definition with the words they have been given. The students can work in pairs or groups of three.

Method

- 1 Copy the hand-out on page 110 and give each pair/group a copy.
- 2 Read out the sentences on page 111, one by one. Allow the students time to write down their answers.

Teacher's notes

- 3 Check orally.
- 4 As a follow-up, get the students to turn over their papers and read out the definitions again (in a different order) to see how many words they remember.

Further suggestions

- crime and punishment
- health words
- adjectives to describe people
- business English

57 Missing words: Nouns Advanced

This, and the following five activities, are for advanced groups. Using them as examples, it shouldn't be too difficult to construct activities for lower-level groups.

In this activity, the teacher writes words on the board and the students match them with sentences which have missing words. As usual they work in pairs or groups.

Method

- 1 Copy the hand-out on page 112 and give each pair/group a copy.
- 2 Copy, cut out and shuffle the words on page 113. Place them face down in front of you on the table.
- 3 Take the top word, and write it on the board. Allow the students about a minute to decide which sentence it is missing from. Then rub out the word, pick up the next one, and write that on the board instead.
- 4 Continue in this way until all the words have been read out.
- 5 Check orally.

58 Words of similar meaning: Adjectives Advanced

In this activity, the students have to find an adjective from the 16 they are given which is similar to three others. As usual they work in pairs or groups.

Method

As Activity 57. The hand-out is on page 114 and the adjectives to be cut up are on page 115.

59 Matching pairs: (Adjective + noun) Intermediate

This activity concentrates on adjective + noun collocations. As usual the students work in pairs or groups. (This activity is only partly teacher-led.)

Method

- 1 Copy the hand-out on page 116 and divide the class into four or five groups. Give each group a hand-out.
- 2 Copy, cut up and shuffle the 25 words on page 117. (NOTE: The last five words are distractors.)
- 3 Give each group five words. Tell them to see if they can complete some of the 20 phrases with these words. Explain that they will receive 25 words altogether – in other words, five words will not be used.
- 4 After three or four minutes, get the students to pass the words along from group to group in a clockwise direction.
- 5 Continue in this way until every group has seen every word.
- 6 Check orally.

60 What does it mean? 1 Advanced

This activity tests the students' knowledge of idioms. As usual they work in pairs or groups.

Method

- 1 Copy the hand-out on page 118 and give each pair/group a copy.
- 2 Read out the sentences on page 119. Allow a minute or so after each one for the students to write the number of the sentence next to the idiom with the same meaning.
- 3 Check orally.

61 What does it mean? 2 Advanced

Sixteen further idioms.

Method

As Activity 57. The student's hand-out is on page 120 and the teacher's sentences are on page 121.

62 Word groups*Advanced*

This activity is similar to Activities 42–6, but this time is teacher-led. Before starting, divide the class into four groups.

Method

- 1 Copy, cut out and shuffle the words on page 122. Place them in a pile face down on the table in front of you.
- 2 Write the following headings on the board. Allow enough room to write five words under each heading.

Ways of lookingWays of movingExpressing dislikeSpeaking and listeningFacial gesturesAnimal sounds

- 3 In turns one person from each group comes to the front, takes the top word, looks at it and tries to place it under the correct heading. (No one is allowed to shout out the answer!)
- 4 If correct, the group gain 1 point. If incorrect, the word is rubbed out and placed at the bottom of the pile to be used later on.
- 5 Continue until all the words have been placed correctly.
- 6 The group with the highest number of points is the winner.

63 The homophone game*Intermediate/Advanced*

This activity is for pairs or groups. Before starting explain what homophones are, namely words that sound the same but have different meanings and spellings, e.g. I, eye.

Method

- 1 On page 123 are two lists of suitable homophones that can be used for this activity. List 2 is more difficult than List 1.
- 2 Before starting tell each pair/group to write the numbers 1–20 in a column on a separate piece of paper.

- 3 Read out the words one at a time. After you have read out each word, allow the pairs/groups approximately 30–40 seconds to try to write down two possible words.
- 4 Continue in this manner until all 20 words have been read out.
- 5 Check orally. If you wish, get one person from each pair/group to write their answer on the board. Try to get them to explain the different meanings.

64 The definition game*Intermediate*

This activity tests the students' ability to define words. Before starting, the class is divided into four groups, A–D.

Method

- 1 Copy, cut out and shuffle the 20 words on page 124. Place them face down in front of you.
- 2 Group A starts. One person from the group comes out to the front of the class. (S)he picks up the top word and tries to give a definition of it so that his/her group can guess what the word is. If they do, they keep the word. If not, one of the other groups is allowed to guess and thus gain an extra word. If no one guesses, the word can either be placed at the bottom (and used later on) or the teacher tells the class what the word is.
- 3 Continue in this manner. The group with the most words at the end wins.

65 Word association*Advanced*

This activity tests the students' ability to see links or associations between pairs of words. Before starting, the class is divided into four groups, A–D.

Method

- 1 Copy, cut out and shuffle the 20 words (called student cards) on page 125. Divide them up amongst the four groups. Tell them to lay them face up in front of them.
- 2 Copy, cut up and shuffle the 20 words (called teacher's cards) on page 126. Lay them face down in front of you.
- 3 Hold up and read out the first teacher's card. Ask the groups if anyone thinks they have a card that is linked with this one. If so, they hold it up and say it out loud and explain the link or association. If correct, they turn the card face down. If incorrect, go on to the next word.

Teacher's notes

- 4 Continue until all 20 words have been correctly associated.

66 Carry on the story

All

This is an activity for the whole class, using the same words as those used in Word association dominoes (Activities 29–31). Before starting, divide the class into four groups, A–D. One person in each group will keep the score.

Method

- 1 Copy, cut out and shuffle the words, e.g. the elementary set of words on page 62. Place them face down on the table in front of you.
- 2 Take the top three cards and write them on the board, e.g.:

football school family

Explain that the aim of the activity is to make up a story, working together as a class.

- 3 Group A begins. One person in the group starts the story. It can be about anything, but the person can't stop talking until (s)he uses one or more of the words on the board. In order to know when the person has finished, (s)he says Pass and the next group continues.

Every word used scores 1 point, so in any one turn a group can gain 1–3 points. Using the above words, the person might say, for example, I was walking home from school one day when I decided to have a game of football with my friends. Pass. (2 points scored.)

- 4 Play now passes to Group B. Before they start, the teacher wipes out any words used, takes new ones from the pack and writes these on the board, e.g.:

family job film

NOTE: There should always be three words on the board at any one time.

- 5 Try to repeat the last sentence (or occasionally summarize the story) as you move from group to group, so the main idea of the story is kept alive.

- 6 The group with the highest number of points at the end wins.

NOTE: Try to make sure that a different person in the group speaks each time, although you can allow the group to confer, if the person seems to be having difficulty.

67 Vocabulary sets cards Intermediate

This activity is useful to test specific areas of vocabulary. Before starting, divide the class into five groups of two to four students.

Method

- 1 Copy and cut out the five cards on pages 127–9.
- 2 Appoint a group secretary who will be responsible for recording the group's answers.
- 3 Give each group one of the cards. Tell the secretary to make a note of the card number and the heading on a separate piece of paper. Tell him/her to also write down the numbers 1–10 under the heading. This is where the group will record their answers. They must not write on the actual cards!
- 4 Give them a time limit, e.g. five minutes, in which they have to find out and write down the missing words in the ten sentences.
- 5 When the time is up, tell them to stop. Pass the cards from group to group in a clockwise direction. Again, remind them to write down the card number and heading, followed by the numbers 1–10 before they start.
- 6 Continue in this manner until everyone has had all five cards. Collect the cards before checking the answers.
- 7 Check orally. Start with Card 1: Describing personality. Tell them all to look at their answers for this card. By now, there will be an element of suspense and anticipation in the classroom because all they have in front of them are various words. Few will remember the original sentences, so it makes checking all the more exciting.
Ask each group for their answer to Sentence 1. Then read out the context sentence to remind them. Award one point for every correct word. Continue in the same way with the remaining sentences.
- 8 Continue in this manner with Cards 2–4.

20-square activities

Activities 68–74 are all based on a board containing 20 squares. They are also all for students working in groups.

68 20-square 1: Word sets Elementary

In this activity students have to find a word to add to three other words. Before starting, the class is divided into four groups, A–D.

Method

- 1 Copy the hand-out on page 131. Make sure there are enough copies for each group. (If the groups are large, have one copy for every two or three students.) Also copy, cut out and shuffle the numbers 1–20 on page 130 and place them face down in front of you.
- 2 Give out the hand-outs. Decide which group will start (e.g. Group A). The game then continues in a clockwise direction.

- 3 Hold up the first number (e.g. 5). The first group look at square number 5 on the hand-out and try to think of another word that will go with the three there. In this case, they would have to think of another vegetable, e.g. potato.
- 4 If correct, everyone puts a cross through this square and writes in the letter of the group that gave the correct answer – in this case they would write A in the square.
- 5 If incorrect, the number is put at the bottom of the pack to be used later on in the game.
- 6 Play continues in this way. The team with the highest number of “squares” at the end is the winner.

NOTE: The reason for using the number cards is that it creates a certain amount of suspense – no one knows which square is going to be next. This results in heightened attention.

69 20-square 2: Confusing words

Intermediate

In this activity students have to explain the differences between pairs of words which are often confused. Before starting, the class is divided into four groups.

Method

As Activity 68. The hand-out is on page 132 and the numbers 1–20 on page 130.

70 20-square 3: Synonyms

Intermediate

This activity tests the students' knowledge of synonyms. To help, some letters from the answer are given. Before starting, the class is divided into four groups.

Method

As Activity 68. The hand-out is on page 133 and the numbers 1–20 on page 130.

Key

1 enormous 2 insane 3 vanish 4 scared 5 wealthy
6 stubborn 7 boast 8 dreadful 9 peculiar 10 rude
11 permit 12 giddy 13 eager 14 marvellous
15 change 16 reliable 17 wicked 18 irritated
19 select 20 industrious

71 20-square 4: Explain the words

Advanced

In this activity students have to try to explain the meaning of various words. The words are part of a phrase and are shown in italics.

Method

As Activity 68. The hand-out is on page 134 and the numbers 1–20 on page 130.

72 20-square 5: Beginnings and endings

Intermediate

In this activity students have to try to make words which start with or end with various letters. The method this time is slightly different.

Method

- 1 As Activity 68 (Steps 1–2). The hand-out is on page 135 and the numbers 1–20 on page 130.
- 2 Hold up the first number (e.g. 4). The first group look at square number 4 and try to think of a word that starts with the letters sh, e.g. shirt.
- 3 If correct, the group get one point and play passes to the remaining groups who also try to think of a word beginning with sh. Again, if they do they gain one point. When all four groups have tried, everyone crosses out this square. (To avoid cheating, the teacher can keep score on the board.)
- 4 Play continues in this way. The team with the highest number of points at the end is the winner.

73 20-square 6: Ambiguous headlines

Advanced

In this activity students have to try to explain the two possible meanings of the various headlines.

Method

As Activity 68 The hand-out is on page 136 and the numbers 1–20 on page 130.

74 20-square 7: Explain the idiom

Advanced

In this activity students have to try to explain the meaning of various idioms. Again, for a change, a different method can be used.

Method

- 1 As usual the groups are given a copy of the hand-out on page 137, but this time the numbers 1–20 are not used.
- 2 One group starts, e.g. Group A. They themselves choose a square and ask Group B to explain the idiom in that square. (If groups are wise, they will choose squares containing idioms they themselves are not confident of answering.)
- 3 As Activity 68 (Steps 3–6).

Miscellaneous activities

The remaining activities in the book don't fit easily into any of the previous categories and consist largely of various hand-outs, mostly at intermediate or advanced level.

75 The alphabet race

Elementary

This is a simple activity to give students practice in using the alphabet. (Useful for students whose first language uses a different alphabet.) Before starting, divide the class into pairs or groups of three.

Method

- 1 Copy the hand-out on page 138 and give one copy to each pair/group.
- 2 Set a time limit, e.g. five minutes. When everyone is ready, tell them to begin. After five minutes tell them to stop.
- 3 Check orally.

Key

1 N 2 T 3 day, dog, etc. 4 goat 5 six 6 coat, boat, etc. 7 O, I and E 8 T 9 E 10 I, N, T and E (twice) 11 I 12 J 13 carrot, comb, cotton, crab, cream 14 R 15 cap, apple, etc.

76 Word hunt*Intermediate*

This is an open-ended activity. Students can either work individually, in pairs or in small groups.

Method

Give everyone a copy of the hand-out on page 139. Set a time limit and check answers orally. Alternatively, if working individually, they can get together with one or more students and compare answers.

77 New words from old*Advanced*

In this activity, students make words by adding one word to another, either before or after it. The new words formed are either single nouns or two-word nouns. It can be done in pairs or small groups.

Method

- 1 Copy the hand-out on page 140 and give one copy to each pair/group.
- 2 Set a time limit. Check answers orally.

Key

1 arm 2 book 3 card 4 coat 5 horse 6 light 7 paper 8 ship 9 water 10 ball 11 room 12 chair 13 house 14 post 15 sun 16 board 17 head 18 line 19 table 20 boy 21 man 22 step 23 box 24 pot 25 hair

78 Puzzle it out*Intermediate*

This is a problem-solving activity for groups of three to five students.

Method

- 1 Copy the hand-out on page 141, and give one copy to each group. Copy and cut out the clues on page 142. Again, give one set to each group.

- 2 Explain that there are five people staying at a hotel: Mr Petty, Mr Grove, Mrs Williams, Ms Stevens and Mr Harvey. Using the clues, the students have to complete the missing information in the table, namely each person's job, character, interest or hobby, plus one other item of information. Set a time limit and check orally.

Key

Room 101 – Mr Grove – traffic warden – sociable – gardening – is a twin

Room 102 – Ms Stevens – surgeon – optimistic – painting – is Australian

Room 103 – Mr Petty – plumber – conceited – amateur dramatics – is bald

Room 104 – Mrs Williams – solicitor – mean – tennis – is bilingual

Room 105 – Mr Harvey – estate agent – bossy – bird-watching – is a widower

79 Find the words*Intermediate*

This is a useful activity for guessing vocabulary in context. It can be done in pairs or small groups.

Method

- 1 Copy out the hand-out on page 143 and give one copy to each pair/group.
- 2 Set a time limit. Check orally.

Key (suggestion)

80 True or False 1 Elementary/Intermediate

This is a betting game for pairs or small groups.

Method

- 1 Copy the hand-out on page 144 and give one copy to each pair/group.
- 2 Explain the rules, namely that for each statement they put a tick in the true or false box and then bet

Teacher's notes

10–100 points on their answer being correct. They write the number of points in the Bet column.

- 3 Set a time-limit and check orally. To avoid cheating, let the students mark one another's hand-outs.
- 4 Each answer will either be correct or incorrect. If correct, they gain the number of points they bet. If incorrect, they lose the number of points they bet. (Students copy the amount under Bet to the Gain or Loss column.)
- 5 At the end, add up the total losses and gains to arrive at a grand total, which is gains minus losses.
- 6 The pair/group with the highest score wins.

83 Make two words Intermediate

In this activity the letters which form the end of one word also form the beginning of another word. The students work in pairs or small groups.

Method

- 1 Copy, cut out and shuffle the words on page 147. Give one set to each pair/group.
- 2 Tell the students that they have to arrange the words in three columns, so that two words can be formed. Demonstrate with the following:

blou se cret
(blouse/secret)
- 3 Set a time limit, and then check orally, taking one pair from each group.

84 Arrange the words Advanced

This is a useful activity where the students have to group words under headings – in this case whether certain adjectives describe people's good qualities, faults or either. (Different cultures often have different ideas on what are positive or negative qualities.) Students can work individually or in pairs.

Method

- 1 Give everyone a copy of the hand-out on page 148.
- 2 Set a time limit, and check orally. Encourage discussion, especially where the students disagree over a word.

Further suggestions

- List of words to do with sound. Arrange into pleasant and unpleasant sounds, or loud and quiet ones.
- List of words to do with movement. Arrange into quick and slow movements.

85 It's quiz time: Idioms Advanced

This is a fun activity for advanced groups which tests their knowledge of idioms. Students work in pairs or small groups.

Method

- 1 Give each pair/group a copy of the hand-out on page 149. (Tell them to write their answers on a separate piece of paper.)

- 2 Set a time limit. Encourage them to guess when they really have no idea of the answer.
- 3 Check orally.

Further suggestions

You can make similar quizzes for:

- crime words (What does an arsonist like doing?)
- health words (Why would a woman be in the maternity ward of a hospital?)
- food words (What colour is celery?)
- business words (When would you usually give someone an invoice?)

86 Verb + noun collocations

Advanced

In this activity, the students have to match verbs with various nouns. The nouns are ones that typically follow certain verbs.

Method

- 1 Give each student/pair a copy of the hand-out on page 150.
- 2 Explain what is to be done and check orally.

Intermediate

This is a type of vocabulary cloze activity. The students can work individually or in pairs.

Method

- 1 Give each pair/groups a copy of the hand-out on page 151.
- 2 Let them look through it, and then check orally by getting them to take turns at reading sentences out loud.

KeyThe parrot and the conjuror

Have you heard about the conjuror who used to entertain the passengers every night on board ship?

Well, every night he gave his show, and every time he did, a parrot used to sit not far away, with his beady eyes fixed on him.

And when the conjuror hid a card up his sleeve, the parrot would croak: "It's up his sleeve!" And when he slipped a rabbit in his pocket, the parrot would croak: "Down his trousers, down his trousers!"

The conjuror was dying to wring his neck.

But one night, when the conjuror was in the middle of his tricks, the ship hit an iceberg, broke in two, and sank almost immediately. The conjuror found himself in the water and thrashed about to keep afloat, until he eventually managed to pull himself up on to an empty raft. He flopped onto it, absolutely exhausted. And who should be perched on the far side of the raft too? The parrot. And the parrot's beady eyes were fixed on the conjuror.

Teacher's notes

The conjuror just lay there, flat out, for nearly an hour. And all the while the parrot never stirred, and he never for one second took his eyes off the conjuror.

Finally, the conjuror moved, and opened his eyes. And the parrot croaked: "All right, I give up. Where's the ship?"

This is an example of a jigsaw-reading exercise where a story is completely mixed up. The aim is for the students to put the story in the right order.

Method

- 1 Put the students in pairs or groups of three. Give each pair/group a copy of the hand-out on page 152.
- 2 Explain what they have to do. Set a time-limit.
- 3 Check orally.

Lucky Chris falls from 22 floors up then walks away

A man plunged 200 ft from the top of a tower block yesterday — and walked away almost unhurt. Chris Sagers sailed past twenty two floors of a block of flats before landing on the roof of a parked car.

Seconds later, he climbed out of the wreckage, dusted himself down and walked away. Security guards watching on a video monitor at the council flats in Salford, Greater Manchester, were convinced he was falling to certain death.

They could not believe their eyes when Chris, 26, climbed from the flattened Nissan Micra car and headed off up a side street.

A stunned passer-by rushed to give him the kiss of life, but a very-much-alive Chris muttered: "I'm fine" and walked off.

Police later found him wandering nearby and took him to hospital.

John Whalley, caretaker at the flats said yesterday: "It's an absolute miracle he survived. He must have fallen more than 200 ft and he must have been going at a fair old speed. There was glass everywhere and the car was a complete write-off, but there wasn't a spot of blood anywhere."

Chris, who lives near Salford, was taken to nearby Hope Hospital where his condition last night was described as 'comfortable'. He has a broken elbow, neck injuries and minor cuts and bruises.

The owner of the eight-year-old car, a Salford University student, was planning to sell it. Now he's the owner of a pile of scrap.

89 Sort out the punch lines

Intermediate/Advanced

The final two activities in the book show how jokes and humour can be used in vocabulary learning. The students can work individually or in pairs.

Method

- 1 Give each student/pair a copy of the hand-out on page 153.
- 2 Explain what is to be done and check orally. This can be done in dialogue form with the student reading out loud in pairs, but this time putting in the "correct" punch line.

The Princess and the Pea

by Hans Christian Andersen

Once upon a time there was a prince who (wished) to marry a princess. Only it had to be a real princess. He travelled all (round) the world to find one and, during his (journey), he found many. But there was always something wrong. He could not say (exactly) what it was, but first one thing, then another didn't seem quite right. In the end, feeling tired and (disappointed), he returned to his palace, unhappy that he had not found a real princess to be his (wife).

One evening, shortly after his (return), there was a terrible storm. The (rain) poured down and there were flashes of (lightning) and loud roars of thunder.

Suddenly, there was a loud (knocking) on the palace door and the old king, the prince's father, went to open it. Who should be (standing) there but a beautiful princess, or so she claimed. But she looked terrible! Her hair hung limp and wet, drops of water (dripped) from her nose, and her (clothes) clung like rags to her body. But she said she was a real princess.

The king took her to see the queen.

"We'll soon see about that!!" muttered the old queen to herself. (Without) saying a word, she went quietly to the spare bedroom. There, she took all the bedclothes (off) the bed, and put a little pea on the bottom of it. Then she laid twenty mattresses one upon the (other) on top of the little pea. Next she put twenty eiderdowns upon the mattresses. This was the bed the princess was to sleep in.

Next morning, when the lovely princess came down to (breakfast), the king, queen and prince looked at her closely, for the queen had told the others what she had done.

"Excuse me, my dear," said the old queen. "How did you (spend) the night? I hope you slept well."

The princess looked at her with tired eyes and said with a sigh, "Oh dear! I'm (afraid) not! I had an awful night. I hardly slept at all! Goodness knows what was in my bed, but it felt so hard and lumpy underneath me. I'm black and (blue) all over!"

The king, queen and prince started smiling (happily). It was plain that the lady was a real princess. For she had felt the little pea through twenty mattresses and twenty eiderdowns. No one but a true princess could have such (sensitive) skin.

The prince was delighted and married her because at last he was (certain) that he had found a real princess. As for the little pea, it was put on a marble stand and exhibited in the Royal Museum. It is still there to this day, (unless) of course, it has been lost.
